

"Offering luxury handbags, which are distinguished by their quality, design, beauty and prestige...to anyone who is looking for something special, for articles made with love and attention to detail, by the expert artisans of the Italian leather industry."

For years we have specialized in exotic leather products and we are so passionate about them that we'd like to share our fascination with you!

We are proud to present this guide, which will explain the very essence of our philosophy, so that by understanding our core values and ideas you will better appreciate the true soul of our products.

Today there are very few companies that can boast that all their products really are made in Italy from start to finish. The decision to move production abroad depends on many factors or rather combinations of factors. Each company must make the decision for itself. In the world of business each company faces positive moments and also negative times. Those companies that deal in large quantities or who wish to produce the maximum amount of products for the minimum cost, shift their production base outside Italy. Our company however values quality and we pay great attention to the production of every single piece, taking the time needed to finish each product with care. We don't cut costs and just concentrate on producing small quantities of high quality goods. We made a positive decision to choose quality over quantity and so have kept our production 100% within Italy, unlike many other companies.

We typically sell products of a very high quality to retailers in various countries and regions, but we also supply wholesalers and department stores. Specialist shops and boutiques are among our most enthusiastic clients, not least because of the moderate minimum orders required for our high quality Italian fashion products. GLENI items are also greatly in demand for internet-based shopping sites.

We offer a wide selection of handbags crafted from beautiful, top-quality, natural exotic leathers such as python and 'cocco ligator', as well as our equally high quality range of briefcases, portfolios, belts and wallets.

Italian craftsmen are renowned the world over for the excellent quality of their leather products. Their trademark has long been synonymous with style and elegance, partly due to their way of life but also to their all-encompassing world view. They owe their elegance not to craftsmanship alone—this is art at its purest level.

Fashion is a marvellous outlet for expressing creativity, by accentuating elegance and attention to every detail, from the subtlest to the boldest. Making a handbag allows an artisan to express his ideas freely and create something original and personal from scratch...

Our handbags and accessories are created from the most select python and cocco-ligator skins and are fashioned with love by our expert Italian artisans to give that incomparable style that is recognisably "MADE IN ITALY".

Every single detail is handcrafted with the utmost care and attention, because our goal is to give our customers the finest of products, that will make them feel really special.

Our handbags are only sold in the most reputable retail outlets. We aim to provide our customers with the best-ever in Italian design and quality, bearing the "Made in Italy" label—thereby giving them value for their money that is hard-to-beat.
